Uncle Ed,

You will be dearly be missed. I will always remember our conversations together from joking and laughing to talking serious about life lessons. You always knew how to put a smile on just about anyone's face and you certainly knew how to piss people off in the right moment. I'll never forget when you told me that in the middle of a hurricane part of your fence blew over, the part that your neighbors plants were tied to. Then your neighbor had the audacity to ask you in the middle of the hurricane "hey Ed what's the ETA on fixing the fence I don't want my dog getting out." Meaning while you had more pressing issues as your shingles were blowing off your roof. Margaret had to basically hold you back from kicking the guys teeth in and the next morning you went out and fixed the fence with mixed pieces. We shared many good memories together that I will cherish and keep close to my heart. There wasn't a day that passed that you didn't constantly show your love by being a loving husband to Margaret, a great father, and a great friend and uncle to all of us. You were such an amazing person inside and out. We lost a good one but heaven gained an even better one. I know you will always be watching over us keeping us safe. We love you so much uncle Ed! We will meet again!!! Harrison, Ashlie, Kinder, and I all love you and will miss you every day.

Uncle Ed. You are missed. Thanks for always reminding my boyfriends that you'll kick their a if they ever hurt me. It was always a good laugh, but I knew you'd jump up to protect any family member if ever needed. I hope you've found a baseball or football channel to watch up there. Lots of love, Ashley and family (niece living in Alaska)

“ Where do I begin? How do I share in a few paragraphs how much our life together meant to me? You were my partner, my lover, my protector, and my beloved husband. You touched in a positive way, everyone who were lucky enough to know you. My handy man, jack of all trades, first one to help whoever knew you and needed. I so loved how you loved your son, your grandchildren, and your neices and nephews. I loved how you loved your family and friends with ever ounce of your being. You were funny and a little quirky. My neat freak. We were very different in that area. I remember coming home from food shopping. You said everything had it's place where I put it where it fit. You always went out and reparked my car and would always change out of your sweat even just to do a coffee run to wawa. I miss it all so much

I could not imagine spending those amazing forty years with anyone but you. We started out as good friends. It grew into love. You will always be the best man that I ever will know. We danced our first dance at our wedding to "Always and Forever". That will last until I am called to be with you once again. I love you my love, I miss you so, you will always be on my mind and in my heart. Until we meet again. Your loving wife Marge.

“ You were my Uncle Paco, because u had a lik pocket on your tee shirt with you Marlboro reds in the pocket. Also remember probably 4yo you and Aint Maga picking me up Fox Chase Play n Learn bc my sugar was low an fb needed to be picked up. On the way back to your house I remember the lil old lady from Pasadena playing on the radio. You're most definitely a GOAT. Greatest Of All Time!! Thank you for everything. Absolute great Husband,Father,Pop Pop and Uncle. Love you Uncle Ed

“ Every time I walked out of his house no matter the weather or time he would follow me to my car. As if just to spend a few more moments longer with us. And him in the summer barefoot on the hot pavement saying ooo aaaa hot hot hot while following us to the car. My husband and I lost an amazing father in law who made us feel like he was our home. My children lost their little pop pop and that breaks our hearts. They adored him and his slim Jim's and always stocked drink fridge. Without fail his last words to me were always "alright kiddo, we'll see you later". Later is just a little bit longer this time.

“ My memories of Eddie would be how welcoming he was to the Fox Chase 'Foxes' when Marge would invite us to their home. . It would be a pool party in their yard or an evening with a group of us 'Fox Chase girls'. We just knew he liked joining in our fun. I was fortunate enough a year ago to sit with Marge and Eddie at a wedding. I remember thinking that day how Eddie always had a smile. He was one of those people who just loved life and loved his family and above all, his wife, Marge, my dear childhood friend, Jeanne L.

Jeanne Lydon - February 01 at 03:32 PM

“ Eddie will be missed by many, but we have all those memories we have made together as family. The children loved when Uncle Eddie would come visit he would take them out for ice cream and tease them, trips to St Augustine, fishing and days on the beach. In his younger years he would boast how dark he would get while on the beach while Margret would constantly fry herself. Eddie hopefully was his neighborhood town watch. He would come down the shore and tell us all about our neighbors that's why we called him Gladys! He will always be in my heart and hopefully he is keeping an eye on everyone up there I'll see you again when I get there.

“ ED I will always remember the Florida road trips with you and marge and Terri and I. On our return trip home we would always stop and visit NAN and PAP. And the time you and I moving NAN and PAPs furniture to Florida and the U-Haul truck broke down about 2am on 95 12 miles from Georgia. I guess that was some kind of an Irish good luck thing. There were no cell phones then. So ED I hope and pray you have no break downs on the road you now travel on and arrive at your new destination safe and sound. And when you get there say HI to NAN and PAP for Me. And O yes I hope there will be a cold rolling rock there for You. Until we meet again Hopefully not to soon. Your Friend and Brother-in-law.
