“ CJ things are not the same without you. I known him for many years he was a brother to me not by blood but by heart. We share a lot of good times and some bad times too. There has not been a day that pass that I have not thought of you. You were more of a brother to me then my own brothers. I was bless to have known you.

“ I am so thankful to have reunited with John through social media. He was a friend and confidante. I loved him like a brother and he will truly be missed. Throughout his illness he never lost his spirit. I admire him so much for his strength, positive attitude and never ending hope. Rest in peace, Cicero Johnny. You are loved.
