“ Thea, I'll never forget how we met you at the penny party, how you and Bridget would play with my girls every time we went. As you got older, we'd go get you and go to the mall, drop you girls off there, or hang out at our house. I remember playfully decorating tissues with markers and handing them to you, and you saying thank you for every one, laughing, because it was a crazy thing to be doing. You and Arielle really had a bond, and I wish we could have seen you in recent years. We will have to settle on seeing you again in heaven, where there is no sickness, separation, or tears. Yes, I've been crying to know that you have departed this life, but grateful that your suffering has ended. You fought the good fight, Thee, and we will laugh and talk with you again by and by. Our deepest condolences to your family and Kyle. All are in my prayers.
<3 All our love goes to you. Rest in peace.. <3

“ To one of my closest childhood friends... I'm so glad you aren't suffering anymore. But my heart aches for your family. You were one of the kindest, funniest people I ever met. Ive spent these last few days reflecting and trying to recall all the memories I have of our friendship. The penny parties, the sleepovers, trips to the mall, down the shore... You were one of those people that just really left an impact, impossible to forget. I'm so grateful to have known you. It really isn't fair what happened, you had so many new chapters to look forward to... You had your whole life ahead of you. I pray your loved ones can eventually find peace. You will live on in our hearts forever.

I will forever cherish my childhood memories with you broke my heart RIP hopefully your up there with your dad looking down on your family
